Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Thursday 25 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunshine and scattered showers these more frequent in northwest.

Today:
A bright day with some sunshine. There will also be a few showers, these more frequent in the Northwest and the Isles with some quite heavy. Parts of south and east dry. A little less mild, and windy in north.

Tonight:
Showers will become very isolated this evening with most areas becoming dry and clear. Overnight the northwest and far north will turn cloudier with some light rain.

Friday:
Any remaining rain soon clearing the Northern Isles. Then dry with some sunny spells, best in south and east. Rain, strong winds reaching Hebrides in evening.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Overnight rain clearing with Saturday becoming dry and sunny. Fog patches clearing early Sunday then dry with more sunshine. Similar on Monday, though light rain may reach the far north.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.